COL. BRICE TAKES THE HELM.

THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CAM-PAIGN IN VIGOROUS HANDS.

Pan Lamont Brops in on the Campaign Committer-Bennter Murtha Made Chaleman of the State Executive Committee - A sketch of Chaleman Brier's Career.

The headquarters of the Democratic Natonal Campaign Committee, at 10 West Twenty-ninth street, became restorday the centre of party interest, and so they will remain until election day. The house is a fine four-story and basement brown-stone of generous width, with a central entrance and hallway and ample rooms on each side of it. Frosh bright wall paper clean, cool matting, new, plain furniture, and good pictures of the candidates, framed in oak, are the features of the place. All of the local and visiting Democrats who inspected the house yesterday, from Chairman William H. Barnum and Dan Lamont down.

admired it. It is just east of the Sturtevant gomined it. It is just east of the Stuffevant House and opposite the Bar Association. The National Campaign Committee, which met at 11:20 A. M., consisted of William H. Barnum of Connecticut, Congressman William L. Scott of Pennsylvania, Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland, Senator M. W. Ransom of North Carolina, Caivin S. Brice of Ohio, Congressman John S. Barbour of Virginia, ex-Congressman Miles Ross of New Jersey, and Arthur Sewall of Maine. Herman Oelrichs of

New York and Erskine M. Phelps of Illinois ere absent. The selection of a Chairman was the first busness. Of the three men mentioned for the slace, all had a good reason for declining the onor, the responsibility, and the hard work, Congressman Scott's canvass for reflection in is own district is something that he does not feel like having his attention entirely distract d from, though he proposes to work as hard as had positively refused to take the he knows how in the general fight. Senator Gorman had positively refused to take the place, though his brainy work in it in '84 made him very much wanted in it. Calvin S. Brice had refused to consider it. as he wished to join his family in Europe. His position was regarded by the committee as the easiest to lorce, and they wanted him anyhow. He wavered and asked for time, and it was decided to put off the selection of a Chairman until the evening session. Ex-Senator Asa Smith of Norwalk. Conn. was appointed Sergeant-A-Arms of the committee on motion of Mr. Barnum.

Daniel S. Lamont. President Cleveland's private secretary, was ushered into the committee room about noon. No minutes were kept of what he said. He came to New York from Ogdensburg and had already had a talk with William L. Scott at the Fifth Avenue hotel. He also taked long and sarrestly with Police Justice Maurice J. Power, but not at the hotel. The Colonel declined, as usual, to have anything to say, but the significance of his visit needs no pointing out. The managers of the campaign are evidently not to be left at all in the dark as to the wishes of the Administration on the conduct of the campaign. Col. Lamont went on to Washington on the 3:40 P. M. train.

In the evening Col. Calvin S. Brice signified to the Convention that he would do as they wished. He was voted into the chair, and at once took charge of the meeting. It lasted until a late hour, and its proceedings were not made public.

Assistant Secretary Dickinson exhibited in the rooms a very handsomely framed and beautifully engrossed copy of the rosolutions adopted by the St. Louis Convention, thanking the Hon, F. O. Prince of Massachusetts for his services of twenty-eight years as Secretary of the National Committee and of the Conven-tions. Mr. Dickinson will go to Boston with the resolutions on Friday, and their presenta-tion will be the occasion of a notable gathering of Democrats.

the resolutions on Friday, and their presentation will be the occasion of a notable gathering of Democratics.

The Executive Committee of the Democratic State Committee met in the afternoon at the Hoffman House in the rooms of Mayor Edward Murphy, Jr., of Troy, the Chairman of the State Committee. Mr. Murphy presided temporarily, and there were present Cord Meyer, Jr., of Queens, Secretary of the State Committee, George S. Weed of Plattsburgh, Treasurer Hugh J. Grant, Tammany, and W. P. Mitchell. County Democrat, of New York; James W. Ridgway of Brooklyn, Charles N. Preston of Ulster, Robert A. Maxwell of Genesee, D. Cady Herrick of Albany, Gen. Peter C. Doyle of Buffalo, and Charles R. De Freest, Clerk of the State Committee, Gen. Doyle was chosen Chairman on the temporary organization of the committee. The committee has power to add to fits number, and a resolution was adopted authorizing the Chairman of the State Committee toname four additional members. Chairman Murphy named William H. Murtha of Kings county as one of the four, and announced that the others would be selected subsequently. The officers of the committee were then elected: William H. Murtha. Chairman George S. Weed. Treasurer, and Cord Meyer, Jr., Secretary, Charles R. De Freest was appointed cierk of the Executive Committee. The matter of the selection of a State headquarters was then by resolution referred to a committee consisting of the officers thus elected, and the committee adjourned subject to the call of Chairman Murtha. There is no doubt that the committee will again choose its old quarters in the Hoffman House; the little billiard room nearly opposite the Germatook Chairman Murphy behind one of his fast horses up to Gabe Case's old place. Several other Tammany men, including James J. Martin. Deputy Registrar, got out rigs and followed along.

many men, including James J. Martin. Deputy Registrar, got out rigs and followed along. The probability is that the State Convention will be called early in September, not later than the 10th. The Republican National Com-mittee has not yet secured a headquarters, The committee was very well pleased with 79 Fifth avenue, but it is said that the owner ob-jected to letting it for a campaign headquar-ters.

Chairman Calvin S. Brice.

The acceptance by Mr. Calvin S. Brice of the Chairmanship of the Campaign Committee of the Democratic National Committee, introduces a new and strong personality into the conduct of national politics. An estimate of the value of his services to his party may best be formed by a knowledge of the persistent efforts that have been made to induce him to accept the responsibilities of directing the campaign. A week ago to-day he resisted the united pressure of his associates on the National Committee exerted through its Chairman. Since then efforts have been made to induce several of the most conspicuous and active men in the party to accept the post, but there seems to have been a combination to force the Ohioan to the front. The movement has been successful.

The Wall street friends and political compatriots of Mr. Brice were among the first to learn of his reconsideration of his refusal o last week. It seemed to impart new politica life into them, and they were not slow to express the stronger hopes of success that it inspired. Every one who knows the new Chairman knows that he will bring to the work he has accepted not only great and varied abilities, but the force, the singleness of purpose, and the power over men that are essential to successful leadership. Besides, Mr. Brice is a fighter. He loves to contend for the reward that he finds in the exertion.

These characterizations are not surmises They are warranted by the record of the man He began fighting in 1861 when he was only 15 years of age, serving as a private in the Virginia campaign of that year. Before he was 21 he was mustered out of service, the war being over, with the rank of Lieutenant-Coionel. His last promotion was made on the field, and for personal bravery. Since then he has battled the centre or leader circle of hard-headed men, most of them from his own State, who have devoted their energies to executing the projects that his fertile mind has evolved. The result of this cooperative fortune-getting is that all of them have become millionaires. Mr. Brice's own fortune is popularly estimated at $8,000, 000 or $10,000,000. Less than twenty yours went to its achievement. Mr. Brice's position in the syndicate or association of capitalists and railroad men with whom he works is most clearly indicated by the popularly conceived title of that syndicate, which is always spoken of as the Brice-Thomas syndicate, although Gen. Samuel Thomas is the senior and outwardly the more aggressive man of the two.

The business of this unincorporated combination of capital or unwritten constinctship is, in a word, the wholesaling of railroads, Messrs. Brice, Thomas, and their associates have built a number of reads reorganized others and bought others, and they generally find some one who is willing to may them more than the cost price of what they have developed. In many of these properties the saliers have retained an interest; hence Mr. Brice is never irac from the cares and duties of a large number of directorships and important executive offices.

Mr. Brice's life in outline would read somewhat as follows: Born in Denmark, Ohio, sept 15, 1845, hence now completing his forty-third year. The common school of his native title of that syndicate, which is always spoken

In July, 1884, the old firm was turned into a corporation, but in September last it was publicly announced that the company had been dissolved, and had been succeeded by the present firm. They purchased the entire property and assets of "Cowlishaw, Nicol & Co., limited," assumed all liabilities, and continued under the old style of Cowlishaw, Nicol & Co., in England, and Nicol. Cowlishaw, Nicol & Co., in England, and Nicol. Cowlishaw & Co. in the United States, Mr. Ryde, the senior partner in the original firm, and subsequently Chairman of the company, withdraw entirely from the concern, but left his capital in the business. The firm claimed then an actual investment of £100,000 clear and clean in net assets. The stock was insured for $530,000, including consigned goods in Oriental department. Charles E Smith stated to Bradstreet's on April 3 last. The business is running along smoothly, and while perhaps not advancing as rapidly as we could wish, we are not goons behind. We have wiped out at the itabilities of Cowlishaw. Nicol & Co., limited, both toreign and domestic. We have an actual investment of £10,000 sterling in excess of liabilities, which generally average between $15,000 and $20,000 monthly. We had in contemplation the erection of a factory at Pullman, Ill. but have only gone so far as to have plans drawn. When the matter will be carried through is difficult to say at present; probably not lar some time in the future. count of the high standing of the firm and the present; probably not for some time in the future.

Alexander Milne and George A. Cowlishaw are the resident partners in New York, and the other three partners reside in England. The failure is attributed to trouble on the other side. It is asserted that the firm have enough assets to pay all the American liabilities, and that all the American ereditors are secured. The liabilities are principally in England, and the amount is not definitely known.

CONFERENCE OF PRINTERS.

Private Conference. A committee from Typographical Union No. 6 met a committee from the master printers' organization. Typothetæ, at the headquarters of the latter, 19 Park place, yesterday afternoon. The conference was asked for by the journeymen. The committees were: Typothers—theodore L. Devinne, Edward Taylor, J. Little, John Felbemas, and Francis E. Fitch. Typographical Union No. 6—James M. Duncan, Theo. C. Wildman, Suerman Cummin, W. E. Boselly, and S. Oppenheimer.

C. Widman. Seerman Cummin, W. R. Boselly, and S. Oppenheimen.

The conference lasted from 3 P. M. to 6 o'clock. When those present came out they would say nothing about the meeting. Secretary Pasco of Typothetæ said that there had been an agreement to say nothing about it.

It was reported, however, that a proposed reduction of wages in book and job offices was the subject of discussion; that one firm had begun the cut from 43 cents a thousand ems to 35 and 40, and it was feared that the cut was to be made general. Secretary Pasco said to a reporter before the meeting that the printing trade was in a state of stagnation. "Hore said he," the printers are past 43 cents, while in Boston, where they can do exactly as goo! work as we, the terice is only 40 cents. The cost of rent per printer to the master printer in this city is $75, while in Philadelphia it is not more than 235. This is driving business away from this city. Trade," Mr. Pasco continued, "would be had ontil about October, when there would be a boom of a month for job printers for campaign literature."

Killed the Wrong Man.

OLATHE, Kan., July 17 .-- Deputy Sheriffs Hannibal Campbell and Frank P. Hollenbock were arrested here last night for the murder of John P. Reardon at Round Prairie schoolhouse on April 29. They had a warrant for a desperado named Regers, and his description tallied exactly with that of Reardon, who was en route from Philadelphia to Umatilla, Ore, but was stopping temporarily at the schoolhouse, as his horse was lame. He had a revolver, bowie knife, and a Winchester, and amused the neighborhood boys by tales of his adventures. The officers heard he was there, and started after him thinking he was flogers. It was about dark on Sunday evening when they arrived at the schoolhouse. Reardon was just inside the door playing on a guitar when the officers entered. Campbell had a revolver and Hollenbeck a rife. Reardon, who probably

MICHAEL DUNPHY'S JEALOUSY ENDS IN MURDER AND SUICIDE.

The Shooting as Described by the Murderer's Eight-Year-Old Son Eddle-Illa Wife, who is the Bumbont Woman of the Navy Yard, Says that Drink Caused the Trouble. Michael Dunphy shot and killed his half brother, John Dunphy, yesterday afternoon at 133 Hudson avenue, Brooklyn, and then shot and killed himself. Both bullets took effect in the head, and in each case death was almost instantaneous.

Michael, who is 33 years old, retired from the United States Navy a couple of years ago. With his wife, Annie, a Swede, and his three children-two girls, aged 2 and 5 respectively and a boy, Eddie, aged 8-he occupied the tor floor of the house. Mrs. Dunphy was the chief support of the family. She was known as the bumbost woman at the navy yard, and daily made a trip through the yard selling cakes, apples, candies, tea, provisions, and clothing to the sailors and marines. She was sometimes accompanied to the yard by her husband, and sometimes by John, his brother, who was 28 years old. The latter was a partner with Michael J. Foley in a little corner grocery in Prospect street and Hudson avenue, and he furnished Mrs. Dunphy the Dublith, South Shero and Atlantis, the control of which has just been sold to the Cangrain of Cangray, the Incording and the Cangrain of Cangrain, the Incording and the Cangrain of Cangrain, the Incording and the Cangrain of C the goods she peddled in the navy yard. London as hes frequently been the case of London, as has frequently been the case of late, checked at the opening the declining tendency of the stock market. As indicating the character of the London market it may be noted that it absorbed all of the arbitrage stocks bought here yesterday afternoon, and many more besides, and at prices above our final ones of yesterday. This compelled the foreign houses to enter our market as buyers at the opening. But after their orders had been executed the declining tendency set in afresh, and the early improvement was in most foundation for a fresh advance appeared to be laid, and before 3 o'clock that movement was

The advance in East Tennessee innior securities that has been a feature of the market the last day or two is based apparently upon the following curious condition of affairs: Under the terms of reorganization the first preferred stock, of which a majority is owned by the Richmond and West Point Terminal Company, is entitled to elect a majority of the directors until dividends of 5 % cent, have been paid upon the stock for two consecutive years. Last year the company paid 4 % cent, upon this stock. The general impression is that the management, dominated by the Richmond and Terminal Company, avoided paying a larger amount in order to retain the control under the provision roferred to. This year, however, owing to the retirement of two directors of the company representing the first preferred stock, the junior security holders are in the majority. That is to say, the Board, instead of containing eight members representing the first preferred stock, and seven representing the junior securities and six representing the junior securities. The ropresentatives of the junior securities and six representing the first preferred. The ropresentatives of the junior securities and six representing the first preferred. The ropresentatives of the junior securities and six representing the first preferred stock. The ropresentatives of the junior securities and six representing the first preferred to the power to declare 6 % cent, on the first preferred, thus making 10 % cent, and that they have the power to declare 6 % cent, on the first preferred, thus making 10 % cent, paid on that stock for two years. They also claim that by doing so the provision of the reorganization referred to will become inoperatives of the junior securities can be adjusted amicably, and to that ond a special sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. George 8. Scott and J. H. Imman, representing the preferred stockholders, and John Greenough and william rities, has been appointed to determine upon a policy that will be acceptable to both interests.

The Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway Company, in constructing its extension from Bow-srstown, O., to Wheeling, has, in obtaining right of way, met with some opposition from the South Pennsylvania and Ohio Railway Company. Sufficient prominence has been given to this opposition to convey the impression that it is of a formidable nature. As indicating its true character, the following facts, that were elicited in a recent examination of the officers of the company in the Probant Court of Beimont county, O, are of interest: The capital stock of the concern is $50,000, and up to June 14 only 104 shares had been subscribed for and 10 7 cent, paid in. Since then some Boston parties have subscribed for the balance, and the company has been organized. The officials were compelled to admit that only about $10,000 had thus far been expended for rights of way and construction. Upon this showing the attorneys for the owners of the land that the South Peunsylvania and Ohio Company was seeking to have condemned asked to have the condemnation proceedings dismissed, on the ground that the company itself had furnished conclusive evidence of its inability to carry out its undertakings. The local impression is that the company will stop work practically before it accomplishes anything.
